Bird Construction Ranks on Financial Post's 500 Largest Canadian Corporations

Bird Construction has again been included in Financial Post Magazine's annual FP500 of Canada's 500 Largest Corporations ranked by volume. Bird also earned a spot in the Return on Shareholders' Equity category, an exclusive list of the top 50 companies delivering sizeable returns on shareholders' equity. Bird holds the 17th position with a return on shareholders' equity at 32.9% for 2012.

The company, publicly traded since 1949, has generated an annual profit for over 20 consecutive years and pays a strong monthly dividend while continuing to be one of Canada's top ten contracting firms. At Bird, producing shareholder value has always been an important measure of success and this ranking underscores our long history in providing reliable and significant returns on invested shareholder equity.
